CENTRAL BOARD OF REVENUE*INCOME-TAXNew Delhi, the 8th December 1959*

S.O. 2761.—In exercise of the powers conferred by sub-section (1) read with clause (aa) of sub-section (2) of section 59 of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922 (11 of 1922), the Central Board of Revenue hereby makes the following further amendment to the Indian Income-tax Rules, 1922, namely:—

In the said Rules, after rule 24, the following rule shall be inserted, namely:—

“24A(1). For the purpose of computing the income chargeable under the head “salaries” the value of the perquisites (not provided for by way of monetary payment to the assessee) mentioned below shall be determined in accordance with the following clauses, namely:—

- (a) The value of rent-free residential accommodation shall ordinarily be estimated at a sum equal to,— where the accommodation is not furnished—10 per cent.

where the accommodation is furnished—12·5 per cent.

of the salary due to the assessee in respect of the period of his occupation of the said accommodation during the relevant previous year, but

- (i) where the fair rental value of the accommodation is in excess of 25 per cent (if furnished) or 20 per cent (if unfurnished) of the employee's salary, the value of the perquisite shall be taken to be 12½ per cent or 10 per cent respectively of the salary increased by a sum equal to the amount by which the fair rental value exceeds 25 per cent (when accommodation is furnished) or 20 per cent (when accommodation is unfurnished), of the salary provided that the Income-tax Officer may, having in view the nature of the accommodation, determine the sum by which the 12½ per cent or 10 per cent of the salary, as the case may be, is to be increased, as a percentage (not exceeding 100 per cent) of the amount by which the fair rental value exceeds 25 per cent or 20 per cent of the salary as the case may be;
  - (ii) where the assessee claims, and the Income-tax Officer is satisfied, that the sum arrived at on the basis first mentioned exceeds the fair rental value of the accommodation, the value of the perquisite to the assessee shall be limited to such fair rental value.
- (b) The value of residential accommodation provided at a concessional rent shall be determined as the sum by which the value computed in accordance with clause (a) as if the accommodation were provided free of rent, exceeds the rent actually payable by the assessee for the period of his occupation during the relevant previous year.

Explanation.—For the purposes of clauses (a) and (b),—

- (1) the fair rental value shall be,—

- (i) where the accommodation is provided by Government to an officer under its administrative control, the rent which has been or would have been determined as payable to Government by the officer in accordance with the rules framed by Government for allotment of residences for its officers;

- (ii) in any other cases,— where the accommodation is not furnished, the rent which a similar accommodation would realize in the same locality or the municipal valuation in respect of the accommodation, whichever is higher; and where the accommodation is furnished, the fair rental value of the accommodation as if it were not furnished, plus the fair rent for the furniture (including airconditioning equipments and refrigerators), calculated at 10 per cent. per annum on the original cost of the furniture, or if the furniture is hired from a third party, the actual hire charges payable therefor;

- (2) "salary" includes the pay, allowances, bonus or commission payable monthly or otherwise, but does not include the following, namely,—
- (i) dearness allowance or dearness pay unless it enters into the computation of superannuation or retirement benefits of the employee concerned;
  - (ii) employer's contributions to the provident fund account of the assessee;
  - (iii) allowances which are exempted from payment of tax.
- (c) (i) The value of a motor-car provided by the employer for use by the assessee exclusively for his private or personal purposes shall be determined as the sum actually expended by the employer in the maintenance and running of the motor-car during the relevant previous year (including the normal wear and tear where the motor-car is owned by the employer).
- (ii) The value of the motor-car provided for the use of the assessee partly for his personal purposes and partly for business purposes shall be determined to be that part of the sum out of the amount actually expended by the employer in the maintenance and running of the motor-car during the relevant previous year (including the normal wear and tear where the motor-car is owned by the employer) which can reasonably be attributed to the user by the assessee for his private or personal purposes, but where a determination on the basis mentioned above presents difficulty, the value of the perquisite may be determined on the basis provided hereunder:

Value of perquisite per calendar month

Where the h.p. rating of the car does not exceed 16 or the cubic capacity of the engine does not exceed 1.88 litres.	Where the h.p. rating of the car exceeds 16 or the cubic capacity of the engine exceeds 1.88 litres.

	Rs.	Rs.
I. Where the motor car is owned or hired by the employer and all the expenses of maintenance and running are met or reimbursed to the assessee by the employer . . . . .	60	125
Where the motor car is owned or hired by the employer but the expenses of maintenance and running for his private or personal purposes are met by the assessee from out of his pocket	25	50

- (iii) where the assessee owns the motor-car but the actual running or maintenance charges are met, or reimbursed to him, by the employer, the value of the perquisite to the assessee shall be determined as the sum actually expended by the employer which in the opinion of the Income-tax Officer can reasonably be attributed to the user of the car by the assessee for his private or personal purposes.
- (iv) The value of the free use by the assessee of any other type of conveyance provided by the employer shall be determined as the sum actually expended by the employer in the maintenance and running of the conveyance during the relevant previous year (including normal wear and tear, where the conveyance is owned by the employer) which in the opinion of the Income-tax Officer can reasonably be attributed to the user by the assessee for his private or personal purposes.
- (d) The value of the benefit to the assessee resulting from the supply of gas, electric energy or water for his household consumption free of any charge shall be determined as the sum equal to the amount paid on that account by the employer to the agency supplying the gas, electric energy or water, but—

- (i) where such supply is made from resources owned by the employer without purchasing them from any other outside agency, the value therefor shall be taken as nil and
  - (ii) where the Income-tax Officer is satisfied that the gas, electric energy or water supply to any assessee are consumed also for the purposes of his official duties, the Income-tax Officer shall determine the value of the benefit to the assessee to be equal to the amount paid on that account by the employer to the agency supplying the gas, electric energy or water or  $6\frac{1}{4}$  per cent of the salary of assessee, whichever is lower.
  - (e) The value of the benefit to the assessee resulting from the provision of free education facilities for any member of his household shall be determined as the sum equal to the amount of the expenditure incurred by the employer in that behalf, but where the educational institution itself is maintained and run by the employer for the benefit of all his employees as a group, the value of the perquisite to the assessee shall be determined with reference to the reasonable cost of such education in a similar institution in or near the locality.
  - (f) The value of any benefit or amenity resulting from the provision by any undertaking engaged in the carriage of passengers or goods to any employee of the undertaking or to members of his family or his dependent relatives, of journey free of cost or at concessional fares, in any conveyance owned by the undertaking for the purpose of transport of passengers or goods shall be taken as nil.
  - (g) The value of any benefit or amenity not included in the preceding clauses of this rule shall be determined on such basis and in such amount as the Income-tax Officer considers fair and reasonable.
- (2) This rule shall apply to the valuation of perquisites which are allowed, or become due, to any assessee on or after the 1st day of April, 1958.

(In the matter of the dispute between the workmen and the management of Metrathi Gypsum Mines, Udamalpet, Coimbatore District.)

BETWEEN:

The Secretary, Coimbatore District Mine Workers' Union, 8/39, Trichy Road, Singanallur P.O., Coimbatore District.

AND

The Management of Metrathi Gypsum Mines, Dasarapathi Village, Udamalpet Taluk, No. 1, Azad Road, Udamalpet, Coimbatore Dist.

REFERENCE:

LR.II-64(25)/58 of the Ministry of Labour & Employment, Government of India, New Delhi, dated 15-10-1959 and 22-10-1959.

ISSUE:

"Whether after resuming mining operations with effect from the 3rd September, 1958, the management of Metrathi Gypsum Mines, Udamalpet, was justified in imposing a condition to the effect that only such of the workers as were willing to execute an agreement in the form prescribed by the management would be given re-employment in the Mines".

This dispute coming on for hearing this day, upon perusing the reference the claim and counter statements and the other material papers to this dispute, and upon hearing the arguments of Sri B. Kanagasabapathy, Joint Secretary for the union and of Sri. R. Krishnamurthi, Sri T. C. Santhanam and Sri T. Appavoo on behalf of the management, the Tribunal passed the following:—

AWARD

The question involved in this reference is whether after resuming mining operations with effect from the 3rd September, 1958, the management of Mettrathi Gypsum Mines, Udamalpet, was justified in imposing a condition to the effect that only such of the workers as were willing to execute an agreement in the form prescribed by the management would be given re-employment in the Mines. The management concerned is Mettrathi Gypsum Mines, Udamalpet, engaged in the quarrying of gypsum stones which serve as raw material for other industries, such as manufacture of cement etc. I am told that this business is carried on by a proprietor, Sri Sankaralingam of Tirunelveli. The business was started about September 1955, after obtaining a mining licence for a period of 3 years. The mines are situate a few miles from Udamalpet. On the expiry of the first licence in September 1958, a fresh licence was obtained for carrying on the same business, but it related to a different site, as the plots governed by the earlier licence had been completely quarried and exhausted. During the currency of the first licence, there was a closure of the mines with effect from 5th May 1957, and at that time the union, namely, the Coimbatore District Mine Workers' Union, made certain demands in regard to the wages and conditions of service of the employees. It may be mentioned that over 1000 workers are employed by this management, all of whom are unskilled muddoors.

2. On 18th June 1957, an agreement was reached between the parties by which the management was to restart the mines with effect from 19th June 1957 and pay compensation of 15 days wages for the period of unemployment. In regard to the demands of the union for wages and conditions of service, it was agreed that they were matters to be covered by Standing Orders which the management agreed to frame and submit for certification. The agreement also fixed the daily wages at Rs. 1-4-0 for male workers and Rs. 0-12-0 for female workers, plus an extra bonus of Re. 0-2-0 per every cubic foot over and above 45 cubic feet. The terms of that agreement, marked as Ex. W-1, were given effect to from 19th June 1957.

3. Subsequently, the management issued the notice Ex. W-2 informing the union that the management intended to treat the settlement (Ex. W-1) as terminated from 22nd March 1958 and that said settlement in its entirety will cease to be in operation on and from that date. The union sent a reply Ex. W-3 informing the management that any such termination of the settlement will not in any way affect the workers in regard to the wages and service conditions, and that the termination of the settlement was not proper and just.

4. Having given the notice of termination, the management proceeded to make vital alterations in the wage structure and conditions of service of the workers. They put up a notice (Exs. M-3 series) that with effect from 23rd March 1958 the workers will be paid on piece-rated basis, thereby converting the daily wages agreed to under the said settlement into piece-rated wages. Not only that, the management further intimated the workers that they reserved the right to take or stop the workers according to the needs. The management also intimated the Regional Labour Commissioner (Central) to that effect.

5. That continued till 12th June 1958. But, that was not accepted by the workers, with the result that there were conciliation proceedings initiated by the Regional Labour Commissioner (Central), Ex. W-4 is his report stating that no settlement could be arrived at.

6. On 12th June 1958, the work in the mines under the first licence came to an end, because that had been completely quarried, and a fresh licence had to be obtained for carrying on the mining operations in a different place, as shown by the printed notice Ex. W-5 distributed by the management. After obtaining a fresh licence for a new area, the mining operations commenced from 3rd September 1958. At that time, when the workers turned up for work, the management's sub-contractors insisted on the workers executing an agreement in regard to their wages and conditions of service in a form prescribed by them. Agreements were accordingly taken from about 900 workers who turned up for work, and only those who did not turn up for work have not executed such agreements. A specimen form of the agreement is filed as Ex. M-1 according to which: (1) the worker is to be paid on piece-rated basis, at the rate of Re. 0-2-0 per cubic foot, (2) the workers is given the right to stop away from work at any time either for attending to his agricultural work or other reasons, and should be paid only for the days on which he turned up for work according to the aforesaid rate; and similarly, the management reserves the right to tell the workers at any time that there is no work to give, say, on account of rains, and for such days the workers will not be entitled to any wages.

7. It will therefore be seen from the terms of the agreement, which the management insisted on the workers executing before they joined duty on 3rd September 1958, that the management wanted to introduce drastic changes in their conditions of service, as already proposed by them in their notice Exs. M-3 series. Not only was there a change in the wage system, conversion of the daily rates prescribed under the agreement of June 1957 into piece-rated wages, but the workers were also reduced to the position of temporary or casual workers because they had the so-called right to stop away from work whenever they liked for any reason whatever, and the management reserved the right to refuse to give work to the workers without any obligation to pay lay-off compensation.

8. It follows that for the purpose of answering this reference, those two matters will have to be considered, namely, whether the management had suo moto the right to alter daily-rated wages into piece-rated system, and secondly whether the workers are not permanent employees and should be treated only as temporary or casual employees.

9. Both the parties appeared in the enquiry and were content to argue the matter on documents which they respectively marked on their sides, and none of them adduced any further evidence. On that evidence, I feel no doubt that these workers must be regarded as permanent and not temporary or casual employees, and that further their wages which were agreed to under the settlement of June 1957 could not unilaterally be altered into a different system by the management. Under that agreement, the wages fixed were daily-rated at Rs. 1-4-0 for male workers and Rs. 0-12-0 for female workers, with an extra bonus. That agreement itself would show that these employees were not temporary or casual. For the period of unemployment they were paid compensation at the rate of 15 days wages. In regard to their demands for hours of work, confirmation of workers, and for issue of permanent cards for all the 1,200 workers, it was agreed that those matters will be covered by the Standing Orders which the management agreed to frame and submit to the certifying officer. The management also agreed to provide rest sheds and to run a canteen and a bunk-shop for the workers' benefit. It is therefore clear from the terms of the agreement that the workers were all treated as permanent and not of temporary or casual nature. It is true that by the notice Ex. W-2 the management purported to terminate the said agreement with effect from 22nd March 1958. Even assuming that the agreement had been validly terminated, that would not affect the wage system and the conditions of service which the employees had acquired under the agreement. They could not be altered to their prejudice by the management. It is true that on 23rd March 1958 the management, as per their notice Ex. M-3 series, introduced these changes, which continued till the working of the mines ceased on 12th June 1958. But the changes made by the management were not assented to by the workers, for in their reply Ex. W-3 they contested the justice and the propriety of the termination of the agreement by the management. The workers also initiated conciliation proceedings through the Regional Labour Commissioner, contesting the innovation introduced by the management in March 1958, as shown by the report Ex. W-4. The result is that the daily-rated wages fixed by consent of parties under the agreement Ex. W-1 in June 1957 continued to be binding on the parties notwithstanding the termination of the agreement; and that being so, the management cannot of their own volition make any alterations in the wage system unless there were compelling circumstances which would justify such change. It is stated that because the wages were daily-rated, the workers were going slow and causing loss to the management, and that piece-rated system would stimulate the workers into greater effort, which would be beneficial to both the management as well as the workers themselves. But, it will be seen that while daily-rated system ensures a fixed amount, there is no such guarantee in the piece-rated system under which if a worker is not fortunate in securing sufficient quantity of gypsum, he would not be able to earn even that minimum. Whether the piece-rated system would be more favourable to the workers or not would depend upon the amount of gypsum available for being quarried. Certainly, the worker knows which system is more profitable to him, and in the present case, he prefers the daily-rated system and not the piece-rated system introduced by the management. There is no evidence that under the old wage system, the workers were going slow and were causing loss to the proprietor, so as to justify the change.

10. My attention is drawn to the fact that there is a memorandum, copy of which is enclosed with counter-statement, said to have been signed by 895 workers and forwarded to the Government to be transmitted to this Tribunal, but no such memorandum has been received. The copy of it filed with the counter-statement purports to be signed by 7 workers, saying that they have no dispute whatsoever with the management, that they have no grievance against the management, and that they used to go as and when they pleased and no previous permission is obtained from the management for absenting from work. There is utterly nothing to show what authority those 7 workers have got to speak to that effect on behalf of the whole body of over thousand workers. It is apparent on the face of the memorandum that it must have been got up by the management, for otherwise it is difficult to understand why those workers should be characterising themselves as temporary or casual workers. That contention is put forward in paragraph 7 of the counter-statement, where it is stated that all the workmen are engaged in agricultural operations, and hence during rainy season nobody would be available for quarrying work, and it would be impossible to do any quarrying during rainy season, and further, there is no obligation on the part of the workmen to be present for work daily, nor is the management under any obligation to provide work for the workmen even if they present themselves for work. As I have already shown above, such a contention must be rejected as untenable. Further, in regard to these workers, and in conformity with the undertaking in the settlement of June 1957, the management prepared and got certified a set of Standing Orders, marked as Ex M-2. It applies to all workmen employed directly by the employer or through the contractors. The workmen are classified as permanent, temporary and casual. A permanent workman is one who is employed as such and who has put in not less than 3 months continuous service. Clause 3 prohibits workmen entering the service of any other person. Clause 5 fixes the hours of work. Another clause provides for shift working and attendance and also leave of absence. There are also provisions for holidays and casual leave and disciplinary action for misconduct and so on. There can be no doubt on the Standing Orders that the contention that the workers are not bound to turn up for work and the management is not bound to give them work, because they are all temporary or casual, cannot be supported. It is also alleged in the counter-statement that the quarrying operations are seasonal. It may be that during the rainy season the quarrying is suspended. Even so, that would not make the workers temporary or casual. Some sugar mills may have work only during the sugar-cane season and remain idle during the rest of the year, and it would not follow that the employees of the sugar mills are not permanent. It is also alleged in the counter-statement that the workers are now working in a different mines under a new licence, and that the other mines worked under the old licence has been exhausted. The mines may change, but the business, namely, the quarrying of gypsum carried on by the proprietor continues unchanged. The same workers continue in that business. The fact of fresh licence and the change in the actual place of quarrying will not affect the character of the employment of these workers so long as the business remains the same.

11. It follows that without the consent of the workers, and there being no proof of justifying circumstances, the management had no right to alter the wage system, and what is more to destroy the permanency of their employment and transmute it into one of temporary or casual character. That is what the management is attempting to force upon the workers by taking agreements from them in the specimen form, Ex. M-1. The management was not justified in insisting on the workers executing the agreement in that form. The answer to the reference must therefore be against the management.

12. Another contention is raised in the counter-statement, namely, that the workers employed by the management are not members of the Coimbatore District Mine Workers' Union appearing in this reference, and that that union has no representative capacity and so not competent to take up this dispute before this Tribunal. This contention is equally untenable. It is this union that has been representing these workers at all times. The agreement of June 1957 was entered into by this management only with this union, and not any other. The notice of termination of that agreement was given to this union. It was this union that protested against the cancellation of that agreement. It was this union that appeared for these workers during the conciliation proceedings, as shown by Ex. W-4. It was this union again that gave the notice of demand and strike, Ex. W-6 dated 22nd September 1958; and during the conciliation proceedings, it was this union that represented the workers. Before certifying the Standing Orders, it was to this union that the notice was given. It is therefore too late in the day to question the representative character of the union.

13. There will be an award as stated above.

M/1 it is stated, that he had no intention to pursue his right to recover Rs. 50 per month with effect from 28th November, 1956, and confirmation in the Supervisory cadre by virtue of the duties performed by him with effect from 28th November, 1956, and that the matter may be dropped.

4. When the matter came on for hearing, the General Secretary of the Association of the Punjab National Bank Employees also stated, that the Association did not press the claim of the workman. The endorsement dated 20th November, 1959, was also made to that effect on Ext. M/1.

5. It is thus clear, that the workman himself and the Union do not press the claim put-forward, and the workman, Shri Bal Krishan Sharma, is not entitled to any relief in this proceeding.

6. In the result, an award is passed, that the claim on behalf of the workman, as appearing in the order of reference, is not pressed by him, or by the Union and that he is not entitled to any relief in this proceeding. No order as to costs.
